

American Library Association

LITA's Technology and Access and Legislation/Regulation Committees
present a panel discussion:
To Save or Not to Save? Strategies for Protecting Patron Information

DATE: Sunday, June 27, 2004

TIME: 10:30 AM to 12:00 PM

LOCATION: Renaissance Hotel, Crystal Ballroom D

A challenge for public and academic libraries is to protect their patrons' anonymous access to information while retaining sufficient data to inform the development of existing future services. This program will discuss issues surrounding the identification and retention of personal patron information in various library systems and present preemptive strategies to identify and attempt to minimize the potential risks of saving data.

Speakers

- ◆ Michael Phenegeer, ACLU Florida
- ◆ Daniel Curtin, Comprise Technologies, Inc.
- ◆ Jennifer Kuntz, Florida Center for Library Automation
- ◆ Scott Nicholson, PhD, School of Information Studies, Syracuse University